Symbols of Christianity support the concept that people have found Jesus inspirational for thousands of years.

The cross signifies how Jesus died on the cross and was resurrected.

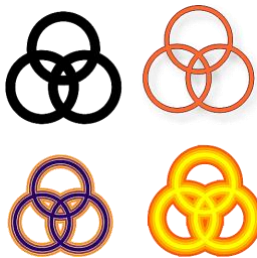

The dove is a sign of peace.

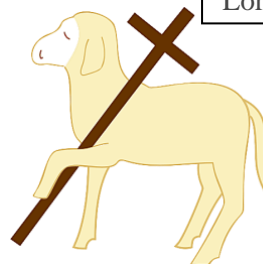

In the Bible thorns often represent sin, and therefore, the crown of thorns is fitting—because Jesus would bear the sins of the world. But a crown is also fitting because it represents the suffering King of Christianity—Jesus Christ, the King of Kings and Lord of Lords.

The fish was a secret symbol of early Christianity.

Borromean Rings
The trinity represents the belief that God is one Being made up of three distinct Persons who exist in co-equal, co-eternal communion as the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

The Lamb of God represents Jesus Christ, the perfect, sinless sacrifice offered by God to atone for the sins of man

Bread symbolizes life. Bread also represents the physical body of Christ.
Wine represents God's covenant in blood, poured out in payment for mankind's sin.
Believers partake of communion on a regular basis to remember Christ's sacrifice and all that he has done for us in his life, death, and resurrection.

When Jesus spoke again to the people, he said, "I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of life

How do we show we live by modern day values?

Modern values include people's right to live together in a society that accepts everyone for who they are, and where you're free to be who you are unless you are physically or mentally hurting someone else.
